BIOGRAPHY

Francesco Puglisi (February 2000) is an Italian actor. He is best known for playing the lead role of Ivan in the social short film Negli Occhi di un Bambino (2023).

The film received the "Smile for Work and Social Policies" Award at the International Festival of Social Cinematography Tulipani di Seta Nera (Rome) and was distributed on RaiPlay, Rai Cinema, and the American on-demand streaming platform Reveal.

For this performance, Puglisi received over half a dozen recognitions across Italy, Spain, and the United Kingdom, with nominations and awards in the categories "Best Actor", "Best Leading Actor", and "Best Artist".

In 2024, he was once again cast as the lead actor in the dramatic short film The Winner - Il Vincitore, playing the role of Cris. The film was nominated for "Best Short Film" at the 44th edition of the Paladino d'Oro International Sport Film Festival and received dual distribution on RaiPlay and Rai Cinema.

For the role of Cris, a former football player struggling with serious personal issues, Francesco Puglisi received further recognition in Europe and across Asia, including the award for 1st "Best Actor" among Italian short films and 3rd "Best Actor" among international short films.
